Sinead and John Kerr, the sensational six-time British Ice Dance Champions from Scotland, are a brother and sister duo that teamed up in 2000. They are the first skaters from Great Britain to medal at an ISU Championship in fifteen years when they took the bronze at the 2009 European Championships. They placed eighth in the 2008 World Figure Skating Championships and represented Great Britain at the 2006 Winter Olympics in Turin, Italy, placing tenth. Sinead and John moved to the United States for training in 2006, taking on as their coach, Evgeni Platov, a two-time Olympic Ice Dance Champion (1994 and 1998 with Oksana Grishuk). These full-time athletes spend twenty hours per-week training on the ice and ten hours per-week training off of the ice. Both have been taking jobs as actors and models to help finance their skating careers, including John doubling for the Scottish football hall-of-famer Ally McCoist in the movie "A Shot At Glory" with Robert Duvall and Michael Keaton, and appearing in various TV series, while Sinead has worked as a part-time model for designer Alexander McQueen. The ice dancing duo is currently ranked seventh in the world and already working towards the goal of once again representing Great Britain at the 2010 Winter Olympics in Vancouver, Canada next year.
